Small Grain Market Depressed

Figures on the July Delivery Were Forced Down One-Half Cent.

CHICAGO, May 28.—Lower cables and continued favorable weather depressed wheat prices today, final figures on the July delivery being down one-half cent. Provisions are 2½c higher to 5c.

The weather and cables caused moderate decline in wheat at the start, resulting in a slight decline, July being off ½¢, at 10½¢. There was some buying that day like covering of the same character that has been in progress for several days. This demand had a tendency to hold prices fairly steady at the initial dealings.

Later, however, holders of May contracts began to liquidate. Ensuing weakness started considerable selling in other grades, causing a general decline. The market showed a fair degree of firmness, due to purchases of nearly 1,000,000 bushels by a house with Northwest contract. Extreme fluctuations marked the day in May, and much difficulty was experienced in making sales.

At 5½¢, May ranged between 55½¢ and 56½¢, closing at 55½¢. Clearances of wheat, sold down to 54½¢ and closed at 54½¢. July ranged between 55½¢ and 56½¢, closing at 55½¢. Clearances of wheat, sold down to 54½¢ and closed at 54½¢. July ranged between 55½¢ and 56½¢, closing at 55½¢.

Provisions were practically deserted and sales almost at a standstill. The eastern market was quiet, with a few small sales. Receipts were 90,000 bushels of wheat, 100,000 bushels of corn, and 100,000 bushels of oats.

On the produce exchange today the market was steady, creameries, 12½¢; eggs, 20¢; butter, 15¢; cheese, 10¢; and other products. The market was generally quiet, with some activity in the grain and oil markets.

OREGON BERRIES HOLD THE MARKET

Utah Orchards Will Send Theirs in Two Weeks—Vegetables Are Still Cheaper.

OREGON is now supplying Salt Lake with strawberries. They first came in on Thursday, and yesterday it was announced that there were no more California berries imported. The Oregon berries are rather tart, as the season is a little early, but an improvement will be noticed in a day or two. The price on Saturday was $5.00 per crate. After a price of $1.50 per crate for the California kind, this looks very steep, but in the new crates there are 24 baskets and larger baskets. This price will be lowered on Monday. Cherries are cheaper, being lowered from $1.75 to $1.25 per box. These are the eating cherries; cherries are still $1 per box.

In vegetables prices and quality have been improving steadily, with the coming of summer. Dry onions are now worth 3 cents per pound, also cabbages. New potatoes are down to 3½¢. Cauliflower has been all out for the last few days, the season being over for this vegetable. Hot house lettuce also has not been seen on the market lately. Utah peas and beans will be for sale in two weeks. The Utah strawberries by the 10th of June.

In spite of the storms that occurred during the past week, the crops are giving good accounts of the week's business. The chief feature was provided by the rain, which lowered the price of wheat and other grains. The price of wheat is now 54½¢, and the price of corn is 12½¢. The price of oats is 10½¢, and the price of barley is 11½¢.
